For Diesel the interior environment is less about room types or problems to solve, rather space for expression to be lived and enjoyed. Our products are designed as much for the emotional response as for their physical functions. The forms, materials, graphics and treatments are the language we use to tell this story. Our inspirations are always the same, art and music, the street and industrial archeology, banal objects and inspirational masterworks. But above all, real life experiences. The catalogue you are holding for us is a representation of the Diesel lifestyle and a place where we bring the entire Living collection under one roof. Seen through different eyes, in different locations and interpretations, but always the same spirit.

The following pages contain our collections developed along with our partners. Lighting with Foscarini, furniture with Moroso, the kitchen with Scavolini, home textiles with Zucchi and this year our new home accessories collection with Seletti
